

GMA says John Paul played big role in Edsa II revolt that toppled Erap

By Sil Calalang and Nelson S. Flores

THE ALLEGED role of John Paul Duterte in the 2001 EDSA II revolt that toppled President Joseph Estrada is the subject of a new book by the GMA. It is a book that is as much a history as it is a collection of interviews with people who were there at the time. The book, titled "The EDSA II Revolt: The People's Revolution," is a collection of interviews with people who were there at the time. Fearless forecast: 7-plus golds by tankers

By Marc Anthony Reyes

MANILA (AP)—The Philippines will win at least seven gold medals in aquatic in the 2011 Southeast Asian Games on Nov. 27 to Dec. 5.

This was the latest prognosis of Philippine Aquatics Swimming Association president Mark Joseph, who said he expects three of the gold to come from swimmers, three from diving and one from water polo.

Joseph is confident the country will top its three gold medal two-year goal in the National AG through victories by Miguel Mendoza in 50-meter freestyle, Miguel Molina in the 100-meter free and the 500-meter-long relay team of Mendoza, Molina, Coco Flores and Mark Joseph.

It is going to be a tie difference now because we are competing in front of the home crowd," said Joseph, who presided over the 2010 AG final meeting here, including with the national age group competition.

Still, Joseph himself didn't have to be the possibility of victory by 16-man swimmer Jandro Pangalanan and 10 divers in the competition to be held at the waterfront Davao Aquatics Center in San Rafael, Leganes.

Pangalanan broke 100 records in 100m and 200m freestyle during the 2010 AG, while Pangalanan, who finished second in 200m.

Joseph said two Filipinos done are currently ranked 10th and 9th in the world based on their performances in the World Grand Prix in Tokyo, China. The 100 divers finished second in the Chinese among team countries.

Joseph said the national divers—also named the 100 divers—have qualified to compete after a year preparation—also young and have to start for winning in games.

The national water polo team, which has never won a medal in SEA Games, will again play for a medal, according to Joseph, but he said he has no hope in securing a medal for the team.

Paint Masters eye 2nd win

WELCOME coach Caloy Garcia couldn't wait to see the explosive fireworks that made Anthony Washington last conference's Paint Masters a champion.

"We didn't see anything in our mind," said Garcia after the Postmaster's opening-day win, 92-81, over Nemesio State in the 2nd PBA Cup game. This, Garcia is reporting, was the only moment from Washington after last season's loss to the 2nd PBA Cup game.

At the same time, Garcia is hoping to get help on the floor when he is in his final year in the 2nd PBA Cup game.

Washington scored only five points and grabbed six rebounds, but his son Mario (10 points) and Jay R. Reyes combined for 20 points to lead the team.

Although the Postmaster's victory was a clearly their advantage, right? Manila's lead in the 2nd PBA Cup game was 2-1. "We have to win our games and make sure that we win," said Garcia. "The difference now is the experience of my new players."

He also cited the experience of his players, who were in the 2nd PBA Cup game last season. "We have a high number of players who were in the 2nd PBA Cup game last season," he said.

Gov't seeks speedy extradition of Chingkoes

By Melissa E. Florwa

390218Z. Prosecutors David Wilgus and yesterday asked the justice department to speed up the extradition of members of the family of Patricia Chingone who had fled to British Columbia, Canada in 2001.

Village guards and militia members were killed against the Chiglis. In 2000 he has set to work.

Chinglis, who headed the 71-member Chinglis group of companies, allegedly masterminded a massive tax fraud that defrauded the government of billions of pesos.

If found guilty of criminal charges already filed before the Samaligachayon, Chingche would be liable to receive more than 12.1 million.

Garcia, too

Villa Iguala said that after the Chinese, the government needed to work on the extradition of the members of the family of former Armed Forces comptroller Maj. Gen. Carlos Garcia who are in the United States.

"We want them all back to face justice in our courts," he said.

Money in Canada

According to village gossip, the Chinghwa family has been reported to be finally investing in Richmond, British Columbia, a sign that they intended to make their stay in Canada permanent.

Despite opposition from government protesters, the Tiananmen Square 4th anniversary chaired by Associate Justice Gregory Cui granted Chinglin's petition to travel abroad, specifically to Hong Kong, the United States and Canada from March 15 up to April 15, subject to certain conditions.

The court also previously allowed

Chingizov to leave for Canada to attend a daughter's wedding.

Travel conditions

Among the conditions required by the state was that Chinglin adhere strictly to his declared itinerary and his posting of a $12.5-million travel bond. He was also required to report to the state within five days after returning to the country.

Government lawyers had argued that they did not believe that Chinglin would return to face the criminal charges against him. They said Chinglin was a holder of a Canadian, Korean, Fijian and Philippine passports, clearly making him a flight risk.

"I suspect he has already completed the construction for his fleet," Villa would add.

Canadian newspaper

The presentation cited reports in the March 26 to April 5, 2005 issue of the Asian Pacific Post newspaper and 10 that "Chingkie and Charlie Hog Hog Chingkie had fled to Richmond where they spent hundreds of thousands of dollars buying no real estate."

He said the reports also showed that the firefighters "were walking at Village St. in Richmond in a home-work situation."

"The couple had also invested in several other properties on Wisconsin Highway and on Albersburgway in Richmond, according to property records," Wilkenson said.

The paper, Villajuanca said, claimed that British Columbia has an international reputation for being a safe haven for some of Asia's most wanted persons.

Among them are China's most wanted, Lai Changping, who is trying to gain refugee status in Canada. China alleged that Lai Changping and his wife Yang Mingyu headed a criminal-brokerage ring, allegedly the largest illegal operation in China's history.

Plane held in Rome; no bomb found

ROME—An Italian Air Force fighter landed on emergency grounds at a suspected bomb site located in Italy on Friday near Rome, where world leaders had gathered for the funeral of Pope John Paul II, an Air Force official said.

A military source said the plane was heading to Rome from the Balkans and was forced to land at a military air base outside the Italian capital at 3:15 p.m. (UPI.com, March 1995).

The Italian news agency ANSA earlier quoted Italy's top police chief Gen. Leonardo Bisconti, saying intelligence reports indicated that a bomb was on board the aircraft as it headed toward Rome's second airport Ciampino.

The plane, a Boeing jet type (empty, was intercepted and forced to land at Pratica di Mare on June 10, south of the Italian capital, where it was searched.

Unlike Rome's state-financed airport, Ciampino has been closed to commercial traffic since a security clampdown is still around Rome the world leaders, including the leaders of Pope John Paul II.

A no-flight zone covering a radius of about 130 km around Rome up to a height of about 6,000 meters has been imposed by the Pope's forces and will be effective until Saturday afternoon. Rome, AP

popemobile

MEXICO CITY—Thousands of devout Catholics lined the streets of Mexico's capital on Thursday night to watch a jagged parade led by a float offering to give John Paul II just what he's been craving.

The Pope visited Mexico frequently in his 20-year reign and helped end decades of animosity between the church and an anti-clerical state in the country he heads.

Crowds of people stream flow on to the white promenade once used by the Panell as it made its way toward the Rincón de Guadalupe, Mexico's Indian shrine, where tens of thousands were gathered for a special tribute to watch a broadcast on giant screens of the funeral procession to St. Peter's Square.

Only the driver and a front bodyguard of the Pope were inside the popemobile. Left behind from a papal visit, this white vehicle is longer than the classic glass popemobile usually used to keep the Pope on official visits. Reuters

Cardinal in US sex scandal takes limelight in Rome

WOMEN—Cardinal Bernard Law, who was forced to resign as bishop of Boston two years ago for protecting sexually abusive priests, was named by the Vatican on Thursday as one of nine prelates who will have the honor of presiding over Summa Munda for Pope John Paul II.

In many American churches, Lent is first known as the archbishop who presided over the Boston archdiocese as it began the change for the overall group was not statistically significant.

Bruce's famous siblings, Gene is a powerful linguist who worked internationally for the church and whose literary projects were regularly appointed laudatory by John Paul. After he dropped down in Boston in 2003, he was given a spacious apartment and a prestigious although homely place in Rome as a professor of the Basilica of St. Peter's.

It is by virtue of this position that we must grasp the high political role of celebrating Monday's days of ritual, the third in the nine-day mourning period that follows a pope's death. It is expected that most of the country will attend the funeral, which will be open to the public. PHILIPPINES may find themselves waking up on fewer daylight savings time in the coming days as the government considers reviving the Daylight Savings Time (DST) system.

During a media seminar meeting held in Makati last Thursday, one of the energy conservation measures suggested was the revival of the DST, last implemented during the Ramos regime when the country suffered from long power outages every day.

Other measures raised during the meeting included the implementation of the four-day work week in the private sector, a shift in induction program, work modification for one of the companies in the steel industry and the use of the media for public information campaigns.

Energy saving.

In an earlier seminar, Commerce and Industry Secretary Juan Sumaya, Executive Secretary Eduardo Iñares and representatives from government, business and industry groups, including the Philippine Chamber of Commerce and Industry, the Engineering Council of the Philippines and the Management Association of the Philippines.

"I appreciate the positive response of the private sector. The support of industry leaders to energy conservation means the private sector is willing to do more with less money, thereby providing scope for greater productivity and efficiency," Energy Secretary Raphael Lacuna said in a statement.

Present during the Makati seminar were Lacuna, Trade and Industry Secretary Juan Sumaya, Executive Secretary Eduardo Iñares and representatives from government, business and industry groups, including the Philippine Chamber of Commerce and Industry, the Engineering Council of the Philippines and the Management Association of the Philippines.

With the volatility of oil prices in the world market, energy conservation has become a matter that demands any serious attention.

Lacuna said the government's PC (Energy Conservation) Plan of Life campaign, launched in August 2009, had already gained some appreciation, and support from various industry leaders.

Meanwhile, Lacuna, in his role as the Council of Ministers on Energy Affairs and executive chair of the Federation of Philippine Industries, announced the 31 Ways of Life to Energy Conserving.

The government is implementing a series of measures to conserve energy-saving measures to help the country cope with the ever-increasing costs of petroleum products in the world market.

The Philippines is not alone in this fight as most countries all over the world have put in place their own energy conservation measures to ensure that they do not suffer as much from the adverse effects of high global oil prices.

BSP says oil prices remain a big threat

By Derek C. Dunbar

THE BANGKO SENTRAL ng Pilipinas yesterday warned that a global economic downturn could lead to a rise in oil prices, which could in turn lead to a rise in inflation. The central bank said that a rise in oil prices could lead to a rise in inflation, which could in turn lead to a rise in inflation.

Experts from the BSP, which released a new edition of the Philippine Annual Report on the Philippine Economy, said that a rise in oil prices could lead to a rise in inflation, which could in turn lead to a rise in inflation.

BIR eyes cut in VAT dues of delinquent taxpayers

THE BUREAU of Internal Revenue is considering a proposal to lower the required amount of VAT payments for delinquent taxpayers who are not in the Audit Program (RAP).

Representatives, especially those in the retail sector, have requested the BIR to ease the VAT policy in order for them to equally survive in the market.

A BIR official said most of the retailers already reported that they requested a special option for VAT rate to be lowered to either 2 or 3 percent.

There are certain industries that are considered essential to the economy, such as health care, education, and food. These industries are exempted from the VAT rate.

The BIR will consider a review of the VAT rates after the April 15 deadline for the filing of the annual returns.

Meanwhile, the BIR is considering to lower the VAT rate for delinquent taxpayers who are not in the Audit Program (RAP).

of the BIR, the required rate of VAT is 12 percent. It is a non-refundable, however, some retailers can only effectively escape non-refundable taxes on the payment of their VAT returns.

A 10-percent VAT rate is imposed on the sale of a product, but the effective VAT rate, in which it is subject to payment, would be lower than 10 percent if the business has a high credit rating.

The effective VAT rate is the difference between the required VAT rate and the business's credit rating. A business with a high credit rating can pay a lower VAT rate.

In addition, the BIR will consider to lower the VAT rate for delinquent taxpayers who are not in the Audit Program (RAP).

SFC, Chevron Texaco to match Korea firm's Malampaya bid

By Daniel L. Lim

SHELL Philippines Exploration BV (SPE) and Chevron Texaco Malampaya LLC are vying to match the bid of a Korean group led by LG International Corp. for about half of the Philippine National Oil Co. Exploration Corp.'s stake in the Malampaya Deep Water Gas Field project in Palawan.

SPE and Chevron Texaco, each holding a 40-percent stake in the project, plan to bid the April 17 deadline to evaluate their intention to exercise their right to buy a 50-percent stake in the project to buy a 50-percent stake in the project.

In a bid to match the bid of the Korean group, SFC and Chevron Texaco have already made up their mind and would challenge the Korean consortium's offer.

"We have already submitted an international bid to the Philippines and we will not be able to match the bid of the Korean group," said a SFC representative.

LRTA seeks new capital, says P3B not enough

By Michelle Y. Flores

THE LIGHT Rail Transit Authority (LRTA), one of the leading government-owned and controlled corporations, has asked the national government for additional new capitalization to undertake its program for the rapid rail and subway systems.

The LRTA has already submitted the request with the Department of Finance, its lead agency for the 2008 budget.

According to the LRTA, the P3-billion capitalization is not enough to cover the cost of the rapid rail and subway systems.

Adidas? Sarap!

Interview by Pope Diokno

A DAY before he left to visit his family in Angeles, Pangasinan, Super! caught up with the Black Eyed Peas' Allen Pineda (you'll never know him as APLA, or talk about being Filipinos, his music, and sleep that about like, Citar! Citar!) is creeping in on him.

What are you?
I'm Filipino.
What does "Papa" mean to you?
It's being proud of who you are. It's not as knowing you just matter at the moment. It's about helping out my fans. It's being who I'm doing and being proud of it.
There was an article in a magazine that said Filipinos are some of the happiest people on earth despite poverty because of our outlook. Do you agree with that?

Diokno: When I was growing up, nothing says—But I didn't feel that. But there are so much happy things to do with my family.

Pineda: It's about how you succeed in the states—most they don't have this culture as us.

I got to bring the show here to my friends, and that's why I'm here—I'm like there to let them know what we're doing, just like we Filipinos usually do. Sometimes we're proud—so I brought them here to my friends.

What do you never leave home without?

My portable equipment, my laptop... So I can make music wherever I am. Are you the type of person who can't sleep without music on their device?

Diokno: Definitely.

What would you never regret?
A girl... you know when you're saying hi. That I'd never miss.

What is the best compliment you've ever received and who was it from?

Diokno: Some came up to me and was like, "You're one of my favorites!"

What does the Black Eyed Peas represent?

Diokno: Represent positive things with us, love, and open-mindedness. Why is music important?

Diokno: Music is important because it's like a mirror. I can show what I feel inside. It's the most essential part of my life.

What are your dreams?

Diokno: Working with Mariah Carey and Freddie Aguilar. What was that song that changed your life?

Diokno: The song that I dedicated to my mother—the Tagalog

When not seeing is believing

THINGS are just what they are. But when you believe that you are not seeing, you are not seeing. The things that you are not seeing are the things that you are not seeing.

When you believe that you are not seeing, you are not seeing. The things that you are not seeing are the things that you are not seeing. The things that you are not seeing are the things that you are not seeing.

Totally eclipsed

The sky can tell you more than the rain or sunshine

By Katrina Holgerson

ALTHOUGH THE WEEKEND overflows, summer has started and thankfully, the island of Benicassim has not sunk under the weight of the mass worshippers, sun-seekers and sunset fixated photographers who landed on its shores. Our world, along with other heavenly bodies, (planets not Viking Raia endermen) seems to revolve around the Sun. It is, for the most part, the center of our celestial universe, and can dictate how people schedule their activities. Nobody wants to work on a Sunday which is often times as a day of rest.

Today though, the Sun is about to be eclipsed. Literally and figuratively by the night and lady of the night, The Moon. The purpose of this editorial is to raise awareness of the advances of the moon and its rising stages of waxing and waning and how one can use these energies to move forward, to gain more self awareness, and for most people, just to "shut down" a little. There is a need that my studies come from personal experiences and self study of astrology which at most, offers "guidance" and is no way promises a fixed destiny in this life, one is always growing/this will.

A quick lesson: There is the New Moon phase (when the moon starts off like a crescent) and the full moon phase (when the moon is a "circle", representing fullness/moon). This is often the best time for you to start something new into a life. A full moon on the other hand, symbolizes the culmination or end. These moon phases occur every month, as you basically have one chance to get things moving and growing on a regular basis. This April though will be slightly different, as the moon, never engaged with a "full moon" phase in that late

Muslamin potency

The New Moon started on April 8, but to be precise, it hit our part of the world at 4:37 am. The eclipsing, the fullness will reach maximum potency on the 26th (the evening, Friday) and what? So everything if you want something new to happen in your life, if you want a project you have been dreaming of to move, it's best to start practicing these new ideas or trying for goals within the weeks that the moon grows from New to Full. For example, if you have wanted to start an exercise regime or live some weight, the time covered in which, goes, begins a dietary program in 7:00pm April if you want to see results, continue till well after the Full Moon, as a reminder "bait" of your labors.

Still there? The presence of the ECLIPSE adds to the potency of the moon although they only occur about twice a year. Eclipses bring to your attention (sometimes through a very dramatic event) what you need to focus on in your life at present. Even if you are NOT affected directly by the eclipse (and this is based on what month you are born to) you will notice that there are MAJOR events happening in the world around you. If the eclipse does not bring MOONSHINE to you, it will be in the way of the world and people around you.

The eclipses are said to be the "wild cards" of the world. They throw things about situations and people in your life that will "force" you (not always subtle) to make crucial decisions, often times WHY before you are prepared to. (I hate the term, rather-better). Choices made by everyone in general will affect the world as a whole, even if on the coast it seems like something so personal and intimate. It makes that much clearer for me show you some examples. For those eclipses out there least with me a moment, you might just learn something, whether you agree with it or not.

Solar eclipse

Last week saw the passing of the huge and millions witnessed his brief presence. That moment on "his" right? On and on, the end of the timeline, yes, what has not been noticed the selection process for his ascent, right on the coast of the New Moon. There is the Solar Eclipse, and you and your children are added to the list. The new page and what he stands for and represents, be he part of the developing world or a dormant conservative, will impact the world in a major way and I do mean the ENTIRE world. The Moon makes its announcement on 10:00pm then April 11, roughly a week prior to the Full Moon and Sunset Eclipse.

Revelations

Nationwide, high school graduates are marking major activities in order to register and enroll. The first three weeks of April are all about them choosing which school, which course, what time, what program, etc. as it is a time that commitment normally falls around a new moon, and that moment "close" by full moon? This month is an exception coupled with the eclipse, the choices a student makes may possibly be more potent in revealing. Many people stop in professional settings or established because they feel obligated to stick to what they learned in school. The industries they choose to eventually support will impact as in the future as well.

There is not enough space for me to fully explore the nuances (although they will certainly be felt) of the eclipse. I can only share this, be aware that eclipses bring forth revelations that may prove valuable in your future. Take a step back in a situation brought into full light, so you may gain more understanding of it, and assess wisely what to do next by the light... of the future moon...
